

Corpus-based Language Studies

Dear Colleagues,

With the advent of technology, we have witnessed an exponential take-up in Corpus Linguistics in various field of studies running the gamut from Literary Studies, Translation Studies, and Contrastive Studies to Second/Foreign Language Teaching. Accordingly, in a bid to push the boundaries in this increasing area of research, the current issue calls for papers in these areas of research with a designated focus on Corpus Linguistics.

We welcome submissions of manuscripts dealing with (but not limited to):

- Corpus and Literature Research;
- Corpus-based translation research;
- Corpus and comparative study;
- Corpus-based second foreign language teaching

We look forward to receiving your contributions!

Key words

Corpus Linguistics; Corpus-based Translation/ Interpreting Studies
Corpus-based Second Language Teaching and Learning ;
Corpus-based General Linguistics
